

MET 4230 Syllabus

Atmospheric Thermodynamics

Instructor: Stephen Mullens, stephen.mullens@ufl.edu

Office: Turlington Hall, Geography Department, Room 3126-B (room in a room)

Office Hours: Mondays periods 4 & 6 (10:40-11:30a; 12:50-1:40p),

Wednesdays periods 4, 6, & 7 (10:40-11:30a; 12:50-2:45p), and

Fridays period 4 (10:40-11:30a).

It's best to let me know in class or via email if you're coming to office hours. You are also free to just stop by during those times. If you want to make an appointment at another time, just email me. I will try to accommodate you as my schedule permits.

Class times:

Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays at 9:35-10:25am

Turlington 3012

Textbook:

Petty, Grant, 2008: A First Course in Atmospheric Thermodynamics. Sundog Publishing, 352 pp.

Course Objectives – What we're going to cover:

Students who successfully complete this course will be able to:

- Explain the basic principles of thermodynamics as they apply to dry and moist air-masses and describe how different phases of water affect thermodynamic processes in the atmosphere.
- Apply their understanding of the basic theory to describe how thermodynamic processes lead to the observed structure of the atmosphere globally and regionally.
- Calculate, from observations and models, the stability structure of the atmosphere and its implications for weather phenomena.
- Explain the mechanisms that lead to precipitation development and modulation of precipitation type and intensity.

Grading Structure: (definitely subject to change)

50% - Homework assignments and any in-class activities

20% - Midterm Exam

30% - Final Exam

Grades:

A	90.0-100%	B+	87.0-89.9%	C+	77.0-79.9%	D+	67.0-69.9%
		B	83.0-86.9%	C	73.0-76.9%	D	63.0-66.9%
		B-	80.0-82.9%	C-	70.0-72.9%	D-	60.0-62.9%

No classes on:

Labor Day is on September 4.

Homecoming is on October 6.

Veterans Day is on November 10.

Thanksgiving is on November 22-25.

Very Tentative Weekly Schedule:

Week	Tue 3-4; Thurs 3	Relevant Chapters
Aug	Overview, atmospheric context	Ch 1-4
	Thermodynamic diagrams
Sep
	First Law of Thermodynamics	Ch 5
	Second Law of Thermodynamics	Ch 6
Oct
	Midterm Exam?
	Dry and Moist Air	Ch 7
	Atmospheric Statics	Ch 8
Nov
	Mixing and Stability	Ch 8
	Thanksgiving
	Precipitation Formation
Dec
	Final Exam: Dec 13 10:00am-12:00pm

UF POLICIES

My Expectations of You

You will read materials for a particular class period either before or shortly after class. Learning often isn't the most joyous activity because it requires a significant effort. The nationwide standard for university scholarship says students should study (read, review, reflect, practice, do homework) at least 2 hours for every hour you are in lecture.

Though we will be doing some activities that use the internet during class, please understand that text messaging, visiting Facebook, browsing the internet, etc. during class is a major distraction from learning for your peers as well.

Web page

The class web page can be found at: elearning.ufl.edu/. If you encounter any problems with the web page, do something (anything!) to let the instructor know.

Academic Honesty

"UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class."

Accommodations

"Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester."

Excused Absences

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

"In general, acceptable reasons for absence from or failure to participate in class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused.”

I appreciate that unexpected events occur in all of our lives. If such events occur, and it causes you to attend an event (e.g., funeral, job interview) or a facility (e.g., doctor’s office, courthouse), then you will need to prove that you went to this event/facility on that date by providing some form of documentation of the event. An event program, a doctor’s note, or similar paperwork will suffice. Upon producing this documentation, you will be able to make up the midterm exam or any graded class activities from that date.

“A student needs to inform the faculty member of the religious observances of their faith that will conflict with class attendance, with tests or examinations, or with other class activities prior to the class or occurrence of that test or activity. The faculty member is obligated to accommodate that particular student’s religious observances. Students, upon prior notification of their instructors, shall be excused from class or other scheduled academic activity to observe a religious holy day of their faith. Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence. Students shall not be penalized due to absence from class or other scheduled academic activity because of religious observances.”

Grades

UF policies on grades and GPAs can be found at:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/>

Course Evaluation

“Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at gatorevals.ua.ufl.edu/students/. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at gatorevals.ua.ufl.edu/public-results/.”

Title IX

For any concerns regarding gender-based discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating/domestic violence, or stalking, there are resources available. To learn more or to report an incident, go to: titleix.ufl.edu. A professor/GA/TA is required to report instances of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or discrimination.

Drops, Absences, etc.

Should you decide to drop the course for whatever reason, you must request to do so through the appropriate channels by the appropriate deadlines. You will receive a W for withdrawing. Failing to do so will result in an E grade for the course. If at the time you withdraw from the course you are scoring a failing grade, you will receive an E grade.

Should you need modifications or adjustments to your course requirements because of documented pregnancy-related or childbirth-related issues, please contact the instructor as soon as possible to discuss. Generally, modifications will be made where medically necessary.

DISCLAIMER:

This syllabus represents my current plans and objectives. As we go through the semester, those plans may need to change to enhance the class learning opportunity. Such changes, communicated clearly, are not unusual and should be expected.
